

Lauren Sandeno

Lauren is an artist, an elementary school art teacher, a wife, and mom to 3 girls and a girl puppy. There are so many Barbies in her house and a lot of talking! She sees that God is such a great artist that loves beautiful things. He could have made Earth very dull with no color or glitter, but that's not who we were created by! She wants to share with you that God loves you and calls you His masterpiece.

I am...Creative

Express your creative side in this breakout. No artistic ability required. There will be a whirlwind of colors and textures for you to use while creating your masterpiece and fun "art memory" of the "I Am In Hot Pursuit Ladies Unconference".
